Destination weddings and honeymoons are big business, and have proven to be a smart specialty for Ovittore, who, among her other specialties, counts the Caribbean, Sandals/Beaches, Disney, AMResorts, Hawaii and Las Vegas.

“I take pride in selling to my clients and making their dreams come true,” Ovittore says. “I have traveled to all the Sandals/Beaches Resorts and have arranged for many destination weddings at their properties. I feel the details and attention I give my clients makes a big difference in helping them choose a travel agency that will answer their questions 24/7 and is there for them. My dedication to clients and listening to their needs is what makes their travels with us the best trip they have ever experienced.”

She has a storefront in High Point and was a home-based agent, Ovittore is also an Ordained Minister—which can come in handy in the destination wedding business. “I had a client come on a Friday in December last year near closing time and ask me if I did honeymoons,” she recalls. “I said I did. We made an appointment for Saturday, booked them at Sandals Montego Bay–Bay Rock Villas, a Butler Suite. He also said his fiancée did not have a passport, and we did her photo that day and sent her Monday to get the application expedited.

“They then asked if I knew someone who could marry them on Thursday,” Ovittore continues. “‘Yes I do!’ I told them. ‘I can marry you on Thursday and help you write your vows and send you on Friday to Jamaica for your honeymoon.’ They received their passport on Wednesday; they got married Thursday evening at their home and went with their docs on Friday a.m.—all in less than a week!”
